

Year 5 Update! 17th June 2020

Tom and Ollie have been super busy, learning about Podkin, doing maths with Paddington (that sounds like the best maths ever!), and they have created a fact file about and endangered species!

Jacob has created a fascinating mini book packed full of facts about snakes, such as the bushmaster and black mamba. He's also completed a 1,000 piece jigsaw of London! I wonder how long that took?!

Zac has created a stunning piece of artwork, showing Poodkin when he had both of his ears! And, by joining in with a 'Draw with Rob' live stream, he's become a world record breaker too!

Evie has been out making the most of the delicious strawberry harvest!

Charlie has helped to do a complete deep clean of the house, tidied up in the garden, hunted in rock pools at the beach, and learnt how to lay underfloor heating with his dad! How helpful! I wonder if Charlie cleans other houses too... 😊

Alfie has worked very hard to finish off his exciting story!

13 YEARS LATER

Today was the day the day where all his dreams came true and here are the reasons why:

A. He is old enough
B. He is a boat
C. He has a crew
D. There is no D

When he saw his ship at the end of the dock he was over the moon. It was a perfect day to go sailing the water was calm and smooth and the weather was perfect so they climbed on their boat and sailed out to sea he found where he was on the boat and saw Captain Blackbeard and named himself and told the crew to call him 'Captain Blackbeard'.

It has been 13 years of following the map nothing's happened it is just gone aw.

He observed the water looking for land or life.

In the distance the water rippled there were immense bubbles the crew were desperate to turn back but the captain refused. Now all you can see is mist but then an eruption made the water turn into mist it didn't happen but for the there was rock solid. The eruption almost flipped the boat but they kept it together and pushed their nerves away they had to fight the boat.

The best part going under their boat reaching out the water to flip them over. Captain Blackbeard climbed up the flag pole and the boat sailed out at him but Captain Blackbeard showed no fear it hurtled the open at the base. 'Hitting a rope' in the result sending it down into the depths of the water so they moved on the next part of the adventure.

The next morning Captain Blackbeard got out of his hammock and SPARK he fell into some water after realizing they were sinking them. Shouted around that small boat looking for land until a crew member says 'Land ahead!'

They immediately turned around the boat and sailed as fast as they could to the little island. They made it just as it was about to sink so that they couldn't see anymore.

They were stranded there but the captain remembered the shape of that island he noticed on the map then looked north then here or the map then south then north and then east and with a shock across his face he knew that they made it to the treasure island.

There was joy and excitement over everyone's face. Captain Blackbeard ordered three strong men to dig the X marks the spot. They dug and they dug until they hit the chest and on their way home they took it home very. Nobody knew what happened next but there are rumors that they found a boat and sailed away and still sail to this day.
